Step 3: Begin Your Search
- Eagle Network: Go to Search Jobs and fill out the Job Advanced Search OR
- Personal Search: Find an internship, that is not listed on the Eagle Network that is directly related to one of your fields of study. Friends, Family, Personal Networking are great ways to find an internship

Step 4: Report an Internship
1. Once you have applied for, interviewed for, and been offered an Internship, log on to your Eagle Network and choose Report an Internship Hire located on the left hand side of the screen
2. If the position was found through the Eagle Network, choose the position listed under the MY JOBS tab.
3. If you chose to do a Personal Search click on the “Other Tab” and fill in the Organization Name and Job Title to continue filling out the other information requested.
4. ALL of the information must be complete before your internship request can be submitted for review. *Be sure to read all directions!
5. An email will be sent to the course instructor for review. You should receive an email response within 5-7 days.
6. If approved, you will receive your permission code to register for UCRS 4800. (Check your section number in the e-mail you will receive.) Log into my.unt.edu to add the course. Enter the permission code, and be sure to select the specific # of credit hours you need. (probably 3.) See sample below.
Frequently Asked Questions

1. Who qualifies to apply for this internship?
   Students who are in academic Good Standing and are declared with a major in either General Studies, Social Science or Integrative Studies.

2. Does the position have to be paid?
   No. Both unpaid and paid internships are allowed.

3. How early should I start looking for an internship/trying to get it approved for credit?
   Several months before you would like to begin. We recommend at least one month, but 3-4 months is ideal.

4. I already have a job. Can I use it to fulfill the internship requirement?
   This is allowed, only if your internship position responsibilities are different from your regular tasks and duties. This might include things like a special project, extra responsibilities, or an expanded role that contributes to your learning objectives. Simply fulfilling your regular duties will not be sufficient. Include a detailed explanation of your new responsibilities and role.

5. Who is responsible for creating the learning objectives?
   This is a shared responsibility between you and your employer/site supervisor. We want you to ensure that this will be a learning experience that is intentional and beneficial for you. You need to know what your tasks and learning outcomes are before you begin. All work for the course is posted and submitted through the learn.unt.edu site.

6. My internship employer wants me to start immediately. Is that allowed?
   Yes. Internships may begin up to two months before you take the internship class for credit. You will simply register for the following semester. Be sure to seek approval early so that you can receive credit.

7. What if I haven’t completed the 210 hours by the end of the semester?
   If the semester ends before you complete your internship obligations, you may contact the instructor to see if you meet the qualifications for an “I” (Incomplete). The responsibility is completely on the student to fulfill requirements and turn in all necessary paperwork in order to complete the “I” and receive a grade. This must be done within 1 calendar year, or the grade will change to NP (no pass) and credit will not be awarded. Work hours, forms and final paper must be submitted no later than the last day of final exams in order to receive a grade for that semester.

8. May I take more than one internship?
   You may take a total of up to 6 hours of credit at 2 different internships, during 2 different semesters. However, only 3 hours may count in the major (if approved to count toward one of your three fields, when applicable.) The other 3 hours may only count as advanced elective credit or for Option II (in the B.S. in Integrative Studies.) Also, please note that your internship experiences must be different. You may only take one internship (3 hours maximum) per semester.

9. What if I can’t find an internship site?
   Use the Eagle Network site to search for opportunities. Network with family, friends, those in the field you want to enter in order to find internship options. While UNT staff and offices can be helpful in this process, the final responsibility for finding an internship lies with the student.
