Integrative Studies Information Session:
What to Expect

Overview of the Major

- The Integrative Studies major requirements (BA/BS options)
- How to select 3 fields of study that fit your goals
- The flexibility, strength and marketability of a multi-disciplinary major
- Specific subject areas and how to navigate your courses and pre-requisites

Marketability

- How the Integrative Studies major can prepare you for post-graduation goals such as: graduate school, law school, medical school, and the job market.
- How to add value to your degree through study abroad and research opportunities
- The internship course, specifically designed for Integrative Studies majors: UCRS 4800
- How to utilize on-campus resources such as the Career Center, Learning Center, etc.

Major Declaration

- We will refer you to other options if Integrative Studies is not a good fit for you.
- If you decide to declare Integrative Studies as your major, we will give you the paperwork to fill out and bring with you afterwards to a scheduled advising appointment in order to change your major.
- Attending this session does not mean you must declare Integrative Studies as your major.
- Students on Academic Suspension cannot change their major until they are off suspension but we can tell you about the major and help you afterwards in a scheduled advising appointment to know what to do moving forward.
- You will be able to make an individual advising appointment after you attend the workshop.
- No advising codes will be given at the workshop.
